Don's university level involvement has also included working with Miami University's Richard Farmer School of Business Senior Seminar program and Curriculum Review Committee, for the Business Technologies Division, of Cincinnati State.

Don is a regular contributor and facilitator of the C.P.M. Review Seminar offered by NAPM-Cincinnati every year. He is active the management of the local affiliate having served on its board since 1989.

Don has also served at both the district and national levels of ISM, most recently on the planning team for the national affiliate leadership summer workshops.

6:30PM DINNER:
The Dinner Program

“Be Present when you are present” presented by Dr. Stephen Boyd

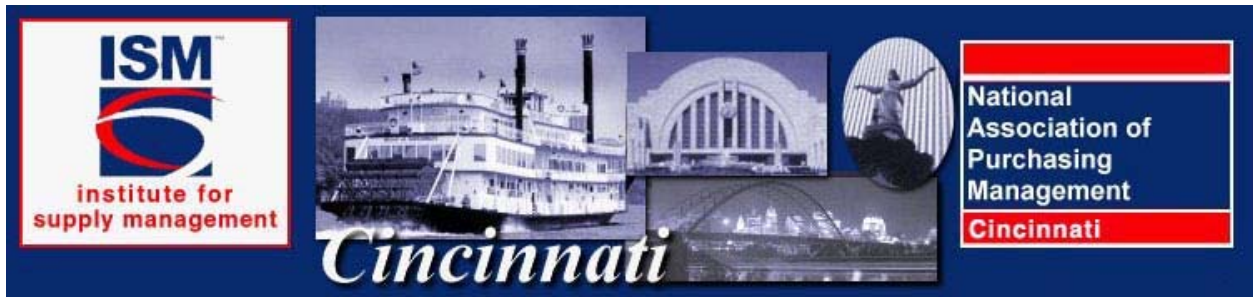

Simply pay attention! Because of multi-tasking and endless chatter coming from our computers, phones, and other high-tech devices, we don't pay attention very well. Steve Boyd will show you how to get more out of your job and your life by learning to be present when you are present. Don't miss what is going on around you because of your mind's being someplace else. You'll go away with practical and effective skills to help you pay attention—and be present when you are present

Stephen D. Boyd has been involved in the study and practice of communication all of his adult life. At 26, he was the winner of the 1970 Toastmasters International Speech Contest. At 27, he completed his Ph.D. in Speech Communication from the University of Illinois.

In 1990, he was named Certified Speaking Professional by the National Speakers Association, becoming one of only nine percent of NSA members to earn that title. For the past 34 years, Steve has been on the faculty of Northern Kentucky University where he is currently Professor of Speech Communication. He is a past recipient of the “Outstanding Professor of the Year” award at NKU.

His articles on communication related topics have appeared in various magazines and journals, and his three books on public speaking have sold over 30,000 copies. His most recent book on speaking, From Dull to Dynamic: Transforming Your Presentations, was written in collaboration with his son Josh, an associate professor of communication at Purdue University. Steve has also written two devotional books: Moments with the Master and He Knows My Song.

His interest in communication skills and personal development has taken him beyond the classroom. He annually conducts programs for business, industry, education, and associations that want their people to speak and listen more effectively to improve professional and personal performance. Clients include Procter & Gamble, MRERF, Institute for Professional Advancement, Union Central Life, and Fidelity Investments.

Dinner and Forum Cost: $ 25.00

RESERVATIONS: Please call John Wenderf at 513-752-6440 by June 9th, 2006 OR E-Mail @ JWENDERF@STELIZABETH.COM to make your reservations for the forum and dinner meeting

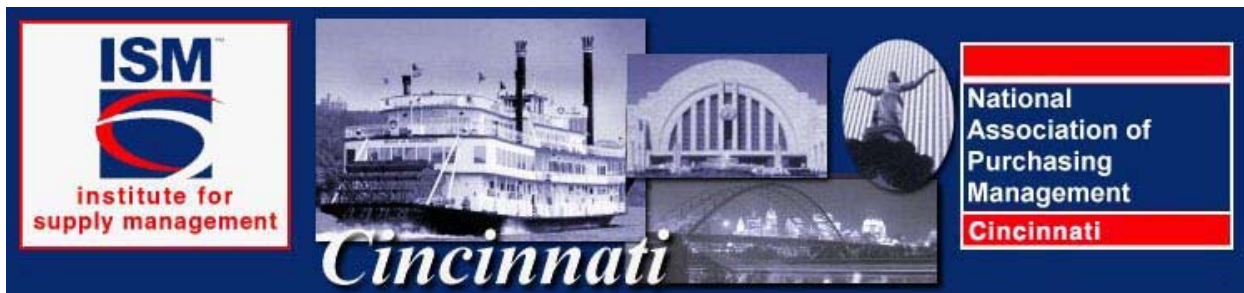

June 13th is Past President's Night.

Come and enjoy some interesting networking with the leaders who helped to make NAPM-Cincinnati the great organization it is today. Hear the stories of when the chapter first accepted women, or what Steel Night was about.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations to Hugh Campbell and Wren Hanson on their election to the Board of Directors of NAPM-Cincinnati. Best wishes.

Just a reminder, NAPM-Cincinnati breaks for the summer. Your board will be hard at work attending seminars and putting together the program for next year but we will see you at the meeting on September 12, 2006.

C.P.M. Certification

Congratulations to Darlene Vedeker, C.P.M. Sr. Buyer at Schneider Electric on her C.P.M.
